

THE HONORABLE
AND MEMORABLE

Foundations, Erections, Raisings, and Ruines, of divers Cities, Townes, Castles, and other Pieces of Antiquitie, within ten Shires and Counties of this Kingdome;

Namely, Kent, Suffex, Hampshire, Sur-
Barkshire, Essex, Middlesex, Hartfordshire
Buckinghamshire, and Oxfordshire:

With the Description of many famo-Accidents that have happened, in divers places in the said Counties.

Also, a Relation of the Wine Tavern either by their signes, or names of the pe-sons that allow, or keepe them, in, and throughout the said severall Shires.

By JOHN TAYLOR.

LONDON,
Printed for HENRY GOSSON. 1638

THE HONORABLE
AND MEMORABLE

Foundations, Erections, Railings, &c.
Business of direct and indirect
and other pieces of land
with a view to the
of the King.

...of many ...
...divided ...
...the ...

Life in the Islands of the Wine Tavern
 and the Islands of the Wine Tavern
 and the Islands of the Wine Tavern
 and the Islands of the Wine Tavern

• ПОДАТНИКОВ

УЧЕБНИК

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO

TO ALL THE GOOD
Fellowes in generall, and particular, that do keep, inhabit, allow, or maintaine the Wine Tavernes, or Inne Tavernes in the ten Shires and Counties before named.

MINE HOSTS,

 Hope I am not much mistaken in calling you Gentlemen; or kind Friends; if you be either,
it is as much as I looke for, or can deserve; you onely are the men that do truly merit the name and title of Mine Hosts, for alas, our Citie Tavernes have no other entertainment, but Welcome Gentles men, a Crust, and What Wine will you drinke?
But you, Brave minded, and most Lowell Sar- danapalitans, have power & prerogative (Cum Privilegio) to receive, lodge, featt, and featt both man and beast; you have the happinesse to Boile, Roast, Broile and Bake Fish, Flesh, and Fowl, whilst wee in London have scarce

the command of a Gull, a Widgeon, or a Wood- cock; and for your further, and more high Reputation, the most part of your Customers come riding to your houses, where almost all our guests are footmen; with you it is common for the Master to drinke pintes or quarts out of Pots, whilst his horse is eating of Bottles. Besides, our Citie Tavernes are not troublesome to their Clients with many various Items, and Reckonings; but briefly, so much for Sack, Clarret, or White; whilst you have the predominance to assault a man with a Bill, and call him to a strait and strict account, not onely for himselfe, but for the doings of his horse; the Iury is divided or divven into five parts, in the manner of Lincoln Woolsey; namely, the Hostes, the Drawer, the Chamberlaine, the Tapster, and the Hostler.
Who having view'd the Bill of Inditement,
They being themselves, Accusers, Evi-lence, Plaintiffe, Iury, and Iudges; the finall sentence is pronounced at their owne Bar of office, where the Delinquents conscience knowing

knowing all to bee justly laid to his charge, with patience and Fortitude, suffers the irrevokeable doome to passe upon him, paies the Reckoning, puts the Bill out of all Force and Vertue, paying his Fees, hee is discharged with a Heartily Welcome.
Of all, or the most part of such Accounts,
Actions, Debts, or Demands, our Citie Ta-vernes have a long time pleaded not Guilty. They cannot bee tax'd with the deadly Sin of Gluttony, nor are they troubled with the harsh musick of Trencher-Scraping, so that if I were to be transform'd, or metamorphos'd into a Hogg, I would bee loath to dwell in one of our Tavernes, because I should have such plenty of Wash, and such scarcity of Graines.

But Gentlemen, though I am bold (a little) to play the (——) with you, yet I assure you, I love you well; but for some more speciall love and favour that I beare to my selfe. I have written this my second Booke of Tavernes, I have not written Epigrams here, as I did upon the former, because in

City and Country the signes and the Wines are all alike.

Yet, (to give all the respectfull content that I can to my Honorable, Worshipfull, and others of my good Friends, that are to pay me money, upon the receiving; or this my publishing this small Booke.) I have recorded (in stead of Epigrams) some Monuments of Antiquity, which my hope is, will be more profitable and delightfull; And Gentlemen (I meane you that are ingaged into mee) in your just payment to mee, you may worke a piece of a wonder, (which is, to make a Rich Poet;) but alas! that stile is as much too high for mee, as I am too low for it, (That's a Bull) so much the better; for almost all men are turn'd Grasers, and speake
Bulls familiarly, and those are the Mounſier Momusses, who have sold their Wife Akers
before they have sowed their Wilde Oates;
And these will censure harshly, any thing they understand hardly, whose knowledge is is much in the validitie and measure of a Verse, as the Asse had that judg'd the Cuckoo's

koo's song to bee sweeter than the Nightingales.

I have laid the Foundation of this Project my selfe, it is a Vineyard of mine own Planting, the Grapes of mine owne Pressing, the Wine of mine owne Vintage (or Vantage) the Tavernes of mine owne finding, and the Vintners my own friends, in lieu of which, I am not mine own man, but theirs, or yours, or his, or hers, that wisheth mee well, as far as my Intentions and Actions are Iust, Lawfull, or Laudable,

JOHN TAYLOR.

These

These Tavernes (some of them) were mistaken in the first Booke, and some of them have been set up since the said Booke was Printed; therefore, to give satisfaction, I have here inserted them.

A Ngell neere St. Clements Church.
Angell neere Creechurch, or Aldgate.
Bull within Bishopsgate
Bull without Bishopsgate.
Bull or Buffles Head at Charing-Crosse.
Bush in Buttolph lane.
Castle without Cripplegate.
3. Cranes neere the Customhouse.
Crowne neere Dowgate, that was the Dolphin.
The Raine-Deere without Temple Barre.
Dog, or Talbot in Long Lane.
Dog neere Bishopsgate.
Fountaine in Bloomesbury.
Hart in Basing lane.
Golden-fleece without Temple Bar.
Greene Dragon at Breadstreet hill, was the Castle.
Globe in Bedlam.
Hart in Little Moorefields.

Harrow

Harrow in Southwarke.

Hoope in Purpoole lane neere Grayfin-lane.

Horle neere the Bridge in Southwarke.

Kings head in Southwarke.

The golden Lyon in Fleetstreet.

Maydenhead in Pudding lane.

Mayden-head in Bush-Lane.

Mermayd in White Crosse street. (taine

Princes Armes in Fleetstreet late the Foun-

Princes Armes in St. John street. (Lices.

Princes Armes in Finch Lane, was the 3 Flower de

Queenes Head neere the Wardrope.

Queenes Armes at Westminster.

Queenes Armes in St. Martins.

Rose in Turnbull street.

Sun in Thames street neere Dice Key.

Salutation in Bermondsey street.

Ship in Butolph lane.

Ship at Smithfield Pens.

A Cata-

1. The first of these is the fact that the
 2. second of these is the fact that the
 3. third of these is the fact that the
 4. fourth of these is the fact that the
 5. fifth of these is the fact that the
 6. sixth of these is the fact that the
 7. seventh of these is the fact that the
 8. eighth of these is the fact that the
 9. ninth of these is the fact that the
 10. tenth of these is the fact that the 0072

-0000 0000 0000

A CATALOGVE OF Tavernes in tenne Shires about
LONDON.

Kent

 Or Noblemen, Knights, Gentlemen, Soldiers, Mariners; Vertuous and beauteous Ladies, and Women of meanest degrees, comely, pretty, proper, handsome, cleanelly, neat, and honest, stored with all sorts of Artificers, and inhabited with painefull and profitable Husbandmen; famous for two most ancient Cities, (whereof one is the chiefe Metropolitan seat of England) It hath many faire Market Townes, Impregnable Castles, secure and safe Havens and Harbours for Shipping, aboundance of rich Villages and Hamlets; So that by the Almighties blessings, and the peoples Industtry, this (old Kingdome) County is for Fruit, Fowle, Flesh, Fish, Cloth, Corne, Wood, and Cattle, or any thing that is for the use of Man

A Catalogue of Tavernes.

Man to maintaine life and pleasure, Kent is, and hath bin renowned univerfally.

Deptford, or Deepefourd, so called by reason of the deepenesse of the Fould or River there, where Ships of great Burthen may safely Ride at Ankore, there is a faire and usefull Dorke for the building or mending of the Kings Ships, it hath also a goodly storehouse for provision for the said ships. Deptford is sometimes called East-Greenewich. This Towne hath these Taverne Licences or Inhabiters.

The Kings Head, The Mermaid, The Sunne and the Ship: the parties that keepe or maintaine them are William Tyle, Richard Aileworth, Ieffrey Nixon, William Dring.

Eltham, where the King hath a faire Sommer House, at the first it was founded by Anthony Beck Bishop of Durham, who gave it to Elinor, wife to king Edward the first, but since often Re-edified by succeeding Princes. It hath a Taverne under the name of one Nathanael Mercer.

Greenewich, for scituation and prospect a Paradise of pleasure, the Pallace there was first built by Humphrey Duke of Glocester, in the Reigne of King Henry the 6. Since when it hath beene Re-edified, and made more large and sumptuous by King Henry the 7. Which Pallace also was begun in ten Shires about London.

be enlarged by the late vertuous Queene Anne,
at now finished by our gracious Queene Mary.
his Towne is most famous for the Birth of that admired Wonder of her Sexe, Queene Elizabeth, who was borne there, in the yeare of Grace 1533.
September the 7.

Greenewich hath these Wine Tavernes:

the Beare, The Crowne. The Kings Armes. The Princes Armes. The Rose. And (which I should have named first) the Ship. kept by Henry Norris.
Also there is a Taverne with a Bush onely, kept by Gregory Martin, and the Kings Armes at Dept- ford bridge in Greenewich Parish.

Darentsfowrd, so called because it is scituate on the River Darent, it is vulgarly named Dartfowrd.
there was once a Nunnery built by King Edward the third, which after was made a House for King Henry the 8. Where he did sometimes keepe his Court. Dartford hath these Tavernes: At the Bull, George Hanger. At the Cocke, William So- mers. At the White Hart, Elizabeth Glover.

Gravesend (as the Learned Antiquary Master Camden writes) is so called, because it is the end of the Greve Reeve, or Port Greves government, or bounds. It is a Towne famous for receipt of all Nations, having at any time more faire Lodgings, and provision for Entertainment, then many Townes

A Catalogue of Tavernes

Townes hath that are thrice as great ; It hath oftentimes lodged Kings, Princes, and Forreign Ambassadors ; it is divided into two Parishes namely, Gravesend and Milton. It hath the Wine Tavernes. William Vernon at the Angel. Richard Tucker at the Ship. Thomas Young at the Anker. William Diston at the Bull. The Christpher. Thomas Skilthorne at the Horne.

Seavenoake so called, because seven great Oaks growing thereabouts, it is a good Market Towne and a great thorow-fare, and hath these Tavernes. The Crowne, the Cat, and the Bull ; they are Tavernes in the tuition (or by the Licenses) of Margery Pocock, Debora Pocock, and William Petley.

Tunbridge, (or the Towne of Bridges) so called, by reason, it hath five stone Bridges, for passage over the River, which River is divided there into so many severall Branches ; it is lately famous for a healthfull, approved, sweet, medicinable water, that cures, or eases many diseases. The Tavernes there, are at the dispose of two women namely, Martha Bartlet, and Elizabeth Frye.

Maldstone, a faire, spacious, sweet, pleasant, rich, and populous Market Towne, hath these Tavernes, or Tavernes keepers, John Taylor, Thomas Davis, and Agnes Spaxey.

Rochester, a faire, spacious, sweet, pleasant, rich, and populous Market Towne, hath these Tavernes, or Tavernes keepers, John Taylor, Thomas Davis, and Agnes Spaxey.

in ten Shires about London.

Rocheſter, is a fine Neate Citie, long ſince founded by a Biſhop named Hamo: it was deſtroyed by Atheldred, King of the Mercians Anno 676. it hath been oftentimes ſpoyled by the Danes; the Caſtle there hath been a ſtrong piece of defence, it was built by a Biſhop named Gundulph; it was rased, and ſpoyle'd in the Baron wars, in King Henry the third's Raigne. The Cathedrall Church there was built by Ethelber King of Kent: The goodly ſtone Bridge there was built by Sir Robert Knowles, Knight, with ſuch Spoyles as hee had valliantly gotten from the French in the Raigne of King Richard the ſecond. Rocheſter hath theſe Tavernes, Thomas Lovell at the Kings head, Dorothy Allen, or Thomas Mot, at the Bull, John Stone, or Ambroſe Grooms at the White-hart, and John Pomſton, or John Philpot at the Crowne.

Queenburrough was built by King Edward the third, in the honour of Queene Phillip his Wife: there is a Tavern which ſerves for Minſter as well as for Queenburrough, it is at the diſpoſe or keeping of James Iacob. This Towne is famous for my Arrivall there (from London thither) with a Boat of Browne Paper, Anno 1619.

Feverſham, a good Towne, it was ſometimes the reſidence of Athelſtane, King of Kent; where ree enacted Lawes: it is also famous for a sumptuous Abbey, built there by King Stephen, and there himselfe, Queene Maud his wife, and his Sonne Prince Eustace were sepulchred. It hath three Tavernes: at the Ship, Walter Moyse, the other two belongs to S. muell Thurstone, and James Hudson.

A Catalogue of Tavernes

At the Towne of Ashford, there may be three Tavernes, for Thomas Mascall may or doth keepe two, the other doth belong to Peter Colebrand.

At Chepsted one, Anthony Fuller.

At Lenham one, Robert Tray.

At Egerton one, Elizabeth Faireway.

At Erith one, Giles Sidgwick.

At Kenthatch one, Edmund Plomley.

At Gowthurst one, Thomas Cowchman.

At Ash one, John Tompson.

At Bremley two, Toby Priest, John Halfepenny, the Bell. the Hart.

At Chattham, Francis Giles.

At Folkstone one, Elizabeth March.

At Ferningham one, John Radcliffe.

At Elam two, Iane Cuntrey, Robert Fox.

At Crayford one, Ralph Meykins, at the Angell.

At Lamberhurst, Mary Astone.

At Greenhive one, Miles Croxton, the signe, Callice Sands.

At Leedes, one Edward Lloyde.

Canter-

in ten Shires about London.

Canterbury, or the Kentish Burrough or Citie is ancient and renowned, it hath Metropolitan dignitie, chiefe over England: Augustine the Monke about the 67 yeare of Christ, came into Britaine and at Canterbury kept his residence, where by his Doctrine, and good example of life, hee confirmed and established many in the Christian Faith, causing it to spread and flourish by his painefull Ministry, so that after a holy and lawdable life ended, hee dyed, and was buried in that Honorable City. It hath these Tavernes, Elizabeth Lockley or William Terry at the Rose; Edward Den, at the White-hart, James Penn, or George B. at the Red Lyon, Elizabeth Bridg, at the Sarazens head, Miles Bull, or Warham Iemut, at the Bull, William Mann Esquire hath also a Taverne License, Robert or Susan Turner, Alias Baker, at the Chequer; Peter Winn, or Christopher Baldwin, at the Sun, 8.

At Milton and Newington one, William Dickins.

At Staplehurst one, William Poynt.

At Wye one, Simon Allen.

At Strowd one, Edward Monox.

At Lewsham one, Elizabeth Tarpley.

At Sandway one, Iohn White.

At Marden one, Anthony Young.

At Talding one, Richard Pix.

At Offham one, Thomas Tresse.

A Catalogue of Tavernes

At New Romney, three, Susan Wood, Sara Wood, Smith Tookey.

At Hawkhurst one, Agnes Viney.

At Bersted one, Thomas Holford.

Deale, where stands a strong defensible Castle, built by King Henry the eight, the place is famous for repulsing Iulius Caesar three times thence before hee could arrive there: it hath these three Tavernes kept by Susan Woodland, Mary Coun-treay, and Indith Hudson.

At Crambrooke two, Ioan Kirkham, and John Leigh.

At Charing one, Anthony Page.

At Appledore and Biddenden — William Poynt.

Sandwich, so called, by reason of too much Sand, which, not onely makes shoales and flats in the Sea, but also chokes up the Haven there; it is a faire rich Towne, and one of the Cinque Ports; it hath had the triall of sundry alterations; It hath been often distress'd by the Danes; it was sack'd, spoil'd, and burnt by Lewis, the Dauphin of France in the reigne of King John. King Edward the first placed there a Staple for Wooll. King Edward the third did honour it with much Princely favour, since when, it was againe burnt by the French in King Henry the sixt his raigne, since which time it hath

in ten Shires about London.

hath been so repaired, that it flourisheth beautifully and bountifully: there doe inhabit many Dutch people, who doe enrich themselves, and are profitable to the Towne, by making divers sort of Stuffs there. Sandwich hath these Tavernes John Seymer, Anne Peyton, Hugh Rodes, Jane Wood, Roger Paine, and Alice Barrell.

At Saint Lawrence one, Katherine Hudson.

At Stonecrutch one, under William Campio Elquire.

At Ospring one, Peter Greenstreet.

At Redred, Mary Oxonbridge.

At Penchurst one, Thomas Sexton.

At Woolwich, Iohn Sims at the Hart.

At Saint Mary Cray one, Edward Fleet.

At Woodsgate one, Iohn Burdet.

At Benenden one, William Leedes.

At Blenchdy one, Elizabeth Clampard.

At Wingham one; Elizabeth Ashton.

At Sunbridge one, Anne Cacot.

Tenterden is a good Towne for cloathing, and so is Crambrooke (before named) Tenterden hath two Tavernes: Mathew Outred, and James Glover.

At Rootham and Norfleet, Thomas Spencer, the Crowne.

At Westram and Eton Bridge, Anne Spencer.

A Catalogue of Tavernes

At Mawlin, George Huntsley, may keepe two avernes.

At Margate, two, Averie Ienkinson, and Henry olmer.

At Lid, Godfrey Martin, and Thomas Tookey.

At Sutton Valience, Anne Vſmer.

At Seale, Mabell Sandall.

At Herne, William Towlſon.

At Highgate, VWilliam VWatſon.

At Bexley and Footsbray, Nathaniel Mercer.

At Hyde, Henry Hart, William Nut.

At Sittingborne, loure, Margaret Huſbands, Inne Wood, Margaret Lawe, Thomas Rochſourd.

To finiſh my Collections of this famous Coun-e; I, for my relliſh to my Narration, and as an xcellent ſeale, or Eaſterne limitation to the moſt xcellent bounds of Kent, I cloſe up all with

Dover, a brave Towne, and one of the Cinque orts, the moſt commodious place for paſſage too nd fro betweene the mighty Kingdomes of Eng-nd and France. It hath a good and ſafe Haven, which was at the firſt made by the command of ing Henry the eight, at ſixty three thouſand ound charges, which is called, Dover Peere: but a time, all the coſt being almoſt loſt, & by the vioence of the raging ſea, decayed and broken, Queen Elizabeth (of bleſſed memorie) with much of her owne coſt, and Parliamentarie authority, enacted that

in ten Shires about London.

that a Toll upon Tonnage should be paid for some yeares, for all manner of Goods transported inward or outward.

There is also an impregnable Castle, which is the strongest Hold, and Fortresse in England, commanding both by Land and Sea; is supposed to have been built by Julius Caesar. Dover hath these Tavernes, Taverne keepers, or Allowers, John Low, Indish Haines, Edward Waller, John Hugeson, Anthony Percivall, Trustram Stevens.

At Dover Peere be these, William Streeting, Elizabeth Alley, and William Bradshaw, to whom I dedicate these few lines:

*Kind friend, as thou didst once the favour gaine,
Great Britaines Mightie Prince to entertaine;
So entertaine these Verses I have penn'd,
As my remembrance unto thee my friend:
Thou knowst (by old experience) that I love thee;
And if thou lov'st mee, I will one day prove thee.*

The County of Kent had, in King Henry the eight's raigne, at the suppression of Monasteries, Abbies, Nunneries, Priories, Frieries, Colleges, Hospitals, and (as they termed them) Religious houses, the number of fifty three.

Kent is divided into sixty foure hundreds, or divisions; namely, Black-heath hundred, Lefnes,

A Catalogue of Tavernes

Rookfley, Axtave, Broomley, Whitstaple, Milron, Toltingtroph, Hoo, Tencham, Shammell, Fever-
ham, Blengate, Bouton under Bleath, Kingslow, Perham, Westgate, Ham, Downhamford, Tenter-den, Preston, Felborow, Oxney Ile hundred, Blackburne, Wye, Winham, Charte, Stowring Conilos, Longbridge, Bircholt, Franchils Calhill, Heane, Blewborough, Street, Selbright fenden, Folkstone,
Worth, Eyhorne, Lovingborough, Roluinden,
New-church, Maydstone, Barnefield, Kingham-
ford, Brinkley and Horse, Saint Martins, Chattham and Gillingham, Bredge, Langport, Twyford, Watheling stone, Larkfield, Loway and Tunbridge, Alloftbridge, Littlefield, Marden, Wortham, Barkley, Godsheath, Westram, Crambrooke and So-merden.

Kent hath seventeene good Market Townes,
three hundred ninety eight Parishes, and one hundred thirty seven Wine Tavernes.

Sussex.

S*ussex*, or South-Saxony, so named when there was an Heptarchy, or government of 7 Kings at once in England; because this County was the best part of the Southsaxon Kingdom. It is a rich Country, plenteous in Iron-Mines, and much good Ordnance

ten Shires about London.

Ordinance are cast there, with other necessary Iron works: also it is much enriched by Glass-making. It is situate neere the Brittainish Ocean, whereby it is plentifully stored with Fish: also it is Noble and rich with Inhabitants, and all other Commodities for Life and Maintenance.

Arundell, A Towne famous for a goodly Castle there, belonging to the Earles of Arundell and Surrey. This towne hath two Tavernes, held by Michaels Henning, and Elizabeth Freeman.

At Chilkington, Charles Johnson.

At Wicham, William Pigott.

At Forrest Roe, Edw. Woodman, the Antelop.

At Battle, Mathew Cowchman doth or may keepe two Tavernes.

At Marsfield, William Mowhurst.

Chichester was built by Cissa, the second King of the Southsaxons, An. 586. The Bishops See for the Diocesse of Sussex or Chichester, was kept and held at Selfey till the time of King William the Conquerour. Chichester hath these Tavernes Thomas Powsey, Anne Billet, Mary Billet, Thomas Billet, Thomas Ball, Mathew Ball.

At Fronte, John Giles.

At Ditchelling, James Dausy.

A Catalogue of Tavernes

At New Shoreham, Richard Gold.

At Tarring, William Fletcher.

At Hayfield and Seaford, Richard Meade.

At Haughton, George Coles.

Petworth, a pretty Market-towne, where the Earle of Northumberland hath a goodly house, and an honourable and bounteous housekeeper. It hath these two Tavernes, Anthony Goodman, and John Hall.

At Hartfield, Mary Shelton.

At Ticehurst, Ioane Kipping.

At Micheing, Samuell Towers.

At Cuckfield, Thomas Tasker.

Horsham seemes to take derivation from Hor- the Saxon, the brother of Hengist, the first King of Kent: It hath the allowance of two Tavernes under one M. Robert Deering.

At Staining, Richard Briant, and Tho. Oliver.

At Wadehurst, one Francis Wilford.

Winchelsea was overwhelmed with the Sea, In 1250. in the reigne of King Henry the third; since when the towne is built higher out of the danger or fury of the Oceans violence: but the haven is decayed, to the townes great hinderance, and for the commoditie and profit of the towne FR. c. Winchelsea hath one Taverner, John Pettit.

The

The towne of Midhurst hath foure Taverners, John Kelsey, Anne Carus, Mary Hudson, and Ioan White.

Hastings is a good and profitable Fisher-town, a Nursery for Mariners and Saylor: It had a Mint to coyne Money in it, in the time of King Athelstan: and it is named the first of the Cinque Ports; it had these ports and towns belonging to it, namely, Seaford, Pemsey, Hodney, Bulverhuh, Winchelsea and Rye: all which were at any time at command of the King to set out 21 servicable ships, for the service of their Prince and Conuntry (within forty dayes warning) and to beare all the charge of the sayd shippes for the space of fifteene dayes, and the King was to be at all the charges after the fifteene dayes were expired. Hastings hath two Tavernes, John Phissenden, and Francis Wennell.

Lewis, a famous Market Towne, which had a Mint in it, in King Athelstanes Reigne, for his Coine of Gold and Silver, or other Mettals. It hath 6. Churches, and a goodly house belonging to the Earle of Dorset; A mighty memorable Battle was fought there Anno 1264. betwixt King Henry the third and Simon Montfort Earle of Leaster, where the Earle tooke the King, and the King of the Romanes prisoners. Lewis hath these Taverns, or number of houses for the sale of Wines. Agnes Thurgood, Thomas Oliver, Robert Carter, and William

A Catalogue of Tavernes

William Peake may keep two Tavernes if he will.

At Lingfield Beding, and Bramborow, Richard Meade.

At Billinghamst, John Agate.

At Vekfield, John Forde.

At Buckesteed, Thomas Oliver.

At Cliffe, Richard Meade, and William Peake.

At Crawley and Worth, John Peake.

At Brighthelmefon, Alice Harding, and William Peake.

At Barreash, Mayfield, Pemsey, and Westham, Thomas Oliver.

At Dallington, Henfield, and Abfreston, Thomas Oliver.

At East-Greenssteed, John Langridge, and Henry Baldwin: the signes at East Greensted, are the Crowne, and the Cat.

Rye, is a good Towne, and was made strong by William of Ipres, (A valiant Nobleman and Earle of Kent) It was walled in the undefensibile and weakest places by King Edward the 3. Terrible stormes and tempests hath done more for them, then they could well have done for themselves: for the blustering raging Winds hath formerly caused the violence of the Sea to make them a good Haven: but great pittie it is, for it is much decay'd. For Rye is a brave flourishing Towne, and serves

in ten Shires about London.

serves London and many other places with Fish in abundance: It hath these Tavernes in name or number. Richard Pecote. John Halsey. Richard Thomas.

Snsssex had at the suppression of Abbyes, Nunneries, Priories, Frieries, Colledges and Hospitalls 32. This County is devided into 6. Devisions, or Hundreds, called Rapes, namely, Chichester, Arundell, Bramber, Lewis, Pemsey and Hastings. There are in Snsssex 18 Market townes, 312 Parishes, and 61 Tavernes.

Middlesex.

M*iddlesex* doth (almost) round beguirt the two famous Cities of London and Westminster: And although I have in my former Booke made mention of many of the Tavernes neere adjoyning to the sayd Cities; yet to make this my second narration in the better forme and order, I haue named some of the said Tavernes againe, because I would play the part of an honest true Taylor, and put in all the stuffe.

At Chelfey, Richard Eeds the signe of the Dog.

At Fulham, Ioseph Holden, Richard Parkes: the signes are, the Kings Armes, and the Nags head.

At Hammerſmith, Alice Robinson, or Thomas Warner,

A Catalogue of Tavernes

Warner at the white Hirt, and Thomas Holden at the Goat or Antelop.

At Chiswick, Valentine Smith at the Kings head.

At Acton, Iohn Coothbridge, and William Aldridge: their signes are the Cock, and the Bell.

At Old Brentford, and New Brentford, are these signes, the Three Pidgeons, the Halfe Moone, the Lyon, the Goat, the George, the Swan.

The Garter neere Hammer Smith in London way towards Brentford.

At Hounslow, Henry Needles, and Martha Warwick: the signes are, the Katherin Wheele, and the George.

At Edgworth, Henry Haley.

At Harrow hill, Peter Iones.

At Strangene, Thomas Blithe.

At Northket, Katherin Awceter.

At Thistleworth, Anne Parks.

At Rayslip, Margaret Price.

At Kenzington, Annis Turbervill, at the Lyon.

At Knightsbridge, Richard Kellway, Elizabeth Sharpe, there are three Taverne signes, Grave Maurice, the Swan and the Rose.

Uxbridge is a faire long Market towne, it hath many Innes, and foure of them be Tavernes, Iohn Raynor, Edmund Morrice, Sara Hitchcock and Michael Web: The signes are, the Chequer, the George, the Crowne, and the White horse.

The

in ten Shires about London.

The Toy Taverne at Hampton-Court needs no
signe.

At Twickenham, Anne Palmer.

At Paddington, Walter Whitlock.

At Kingsland, George Willis; the signe, the King, or Princes Armes.

At Newington, Iohn Usher, at the Sun.

At Islington are these signes and Tavernes: the Angell, the Globe, the Lyon, the Miser, the Nagshead, the Swan, and the Sarazens head.

At Kentish Towne, the Rose, Gregory Machin.

At Whetstone, the Lyon, and the Princes Armes, Samuell Angier, Richard Taylor.

At White-chappell, Habacuck Kirby.

At South Mimms, Thomas Avis, the Bell.

At Hillingdon, Katherin Taylor.

At Pinner, Margery Bateman.

At Saint Giles, Iohn Prince, VVilliams Pearpoynt.

At Kenton, William Bird.

At Tottenham Court, Iohn Day.

At Tottenham-highcrosse, Mathew Beuning, at the Sun.

At Chiswell Street, Samnell Taylor.

At Cow-crosse, Robert Iordaxe.

At Edmonton, Stephen Goodjere.

At Highgate, at the Mermaid, Mary Sell.

At Budfort, Thomas Weldish.

*At Hackney, William Gore, and William Cave:
the*

A Catalogue of Tavernes.

the signes are the Mermayd and the Rose:

At Engfield, Elizabeth Kirby, and Mary Southwell.

At Hardington, Elizabeth Osbourne.

At Totnam street, Francis Key.

At Hayes, Mary Hill.

At Feltham, Robert Butler.

At Holloway street, Ezrahiel Cate, the Bull

At Black-wall, Zachary Gill, the signe of the Armes of the East India Company.

The Crosse at Ratcliffe, the Dragon, the Kings head, the Mermayd, the Ship, the Queenes head, the Lyon, the Ship at Dickshore, and the Hoope, and the three Kings.

In Ratcliffe high-way, the Anker, the Garter, the Rose.

At Bow, the Flower de Lice, the George, and the Kings head.

At Mile end, the Nag's-head.

At Lime-house, John Iennings.

At Wapping, James Bull: the Bull, the Angell, the Crosse, the Dragon, the Gunne, the Ship, the Popes-head, the Rose, and the Kings head.

At Popler, the Ship, the Lyon.

The Bull at Stepney, and the Bull-head.

These that follow hereafter named, are already in my former booke, because they are so neere to the Cities of London and Westminster, but because they are in this County of Middlesex, I will name them once more.

Neere

ten Shires about London.

Neere the Bowling Alley at Westminster, Henric Normaville.

In Galley street, Daniel Hitchen.
Holborne, William Matthewes, Thomas Simcots.

In Saint Iohn street, Margery Baines, and Mary Moisle.

In Saint Martins in the fields, Richard Ieyner, Anne Parks, and Gertrud Swan.

In Silver street, Iohn Thomas.

In Turtle street, Ieffrey George.

In Savoy Parish, Robert Amery, and Thomas Blunt.

In the Tower Liberties, Thomas Foster.

Stanes is famous for a Meadow neere it called, Rennimead or Running mead, where in the twelfth or thirteenth year of the raigne of King Iohn, the most part of the Lords, and great States of England met, and oppos'd the King in Warlike manner, the Lords rebelliously to compell the King, and the King to defend his person, and Royall Prerogative; and at last (after much counsell and debating) they forc'd the King to yield to such conditions as were never observ'd. Stanes is a good thorough fare, and hath these Tavernes: Thomas Wilkins, Iohn Shorter, and Margarett Venman; the signes are, the Bush, the Bell and the Lyon.

This County had of Religious houses, a Abbes,

A Catalogue of Tavernes

Nunneries, Pories, Frieries, Colleges and Hospitals, nine. London, within and without the Wales and Liberties, thirty one.

It hath these hundreds, or divisions; Edmonton, Gore, Finsbury and Wenulocks, Barne, Olulston, Elthorne, Istleworth, Spelthorne.

It hath seventy three Parishes, three Market Townes, and a hundred and one Wine Tavernes.

Essex.

E*sex*, or East Saxony, is a good, a great, and a rich County, stored plentifully with Wood, Fish, Flesh, Butter, Cheese, Saffron, and as good Calves as any other County, or Countrey whatsoever; in a word, it is stored with any thing, or all things needfull.

Colchester stands neere the River Colne, it is a walled Towne, with fifteene Churches, and one other, a most stately building, now ruined with an old Castle, which Time hath brought into a Consumption. This Towne is famous for Antiquity, it was built by Coylus, a good King of Britaine; it is said that this Coylus was father to Queen Hellen, who was borne, or brought up in this Towne, she was the mother of Constantine the great Emperour, who reigned at Constantinople. Colchester hath these seven Wine Tavernes: Francis Kisteridg, Iohn Port- kell,

in ten Shires about London.

Hell, Lawrence Browne, Mary Spileby, Mary Bloomfield, Elizabeth Wyles, Elizabeth Wade.

At Barking, Ioan Gowen, or George Lilly at the Bull.

At Braintree two, Iohn Sparhawke, and Ralph Burton.

At Manningtree, George Springet, and Robert Heywood.

At Abridge, Samuell Newbold.

At Solfield, Anne Dae.

At Epping, Iohn and Mary Archer at the Cock.

At Grayes, Thomas Farnell & Edward Knightly.

At Danbury, William Dickins.

At Harlow Iohn Iosephine.

At Rochford, Iudith Rix.

At Orsed neere Graies, Anthony Web.

At Raynam, Iohn Slany.

At Wetherisfield, Iohn Aldridge.

At Sampford Magna, Ieffrey Baker.

At Pritelwen, Thomas Wait.

At Thacksted, Edward Constable.

At Stork, Charles Newman.

At Woodham-feries, Oliver Higham.

At Springfield, Richard Smith.

At Thorpe, Iohn Berisse.

At Wivenhoe, Iohn Parker.

At Purfleet, Dame Martha Harrie.

Brentwood, or Burnwood, is an ancient Towne

A Catalogue of Tavernes

and had a Market and a Faire, allowed by King Stephen, and continued ever since. It hath these Tavernes; the Crowne, the Angell; but there are three in all, kept or allowed by Richard Smith, Jane Taylor, and John Camper, the Angell.

At high Lasterne, Robert Plat.

At Dagnam, Ioan Bird.

At Lexden, John Pottler.

At Leigh, James Hare.

At Southweald, Edward Woodford.

At Aveley, Lucy Ringsoll.

At Saint Ozith, Thomas Rand.

At Bardfield, John Rudland.

At South Ockenden, Elizabeth Wortley.

At Dedham John Wills.

At Horndon, Nicholas Richold.

At Upminster, Elizabeth Seward.

At Tarling, Dina Hafer.

At Blackmore, John Pechy.

At Little Waltham, Abel White.

At Eastcolne, Samuell Burton.

Ingarstone, a good Towne for Market, and excellent neate entertainment for Travellers, it hath these Tavernes: Agnis White, John Bond.

At Bocking, Ioan Kent, Francis Fitch.

At Chippinganger, Will: Stane, Katherin Stane.

At Waltham Abby, Tho: More, Mary Waterer.

At Walthamstow, Ralph Baker, Thomas Shaw.

in ten Shires about London.

Rumford is a sweet, savery, cleane and gainfull Market for Hoggs, and all other sorts of swine, and of what else is needfull for mans life. It hath these Tavernes, the Angell, the Bell, the White Hart, and the Cocke.

At Rawleigh, Rob. Luckin, & Tho Parker.

At Dunmow, George Deane, and Agnes Gynn.

At East Tiburly, John French.

At Boreham, John Lane.

At Halstead 3. William Thurstone, John Coc, Thomas Harvie.

At Hithe neere Colchester, Edward Legg, Francis Allen.

At Ilford, Francis Blanchard, the signe of the blew Boare.

Wittam, or Whistam is an ancient very faire through-faire. It was built by King Edward the Elder, in the yeare 914; which was 154 yeares before the Norman Conquest, 722 yeares since: It hath two Tavernes, William Nevell (alias) Smith, and John Alexander.

At Stratford Langthon two, Ralfe Keeling, and William Lovell.

At Low Loughton, or Loughton stone, Roger Falkstone, the signe of the Huntsman.

At Burnham, Roberts Rowdon.

At Hatfield Peverell, Abigail Lane.

Hatfield Broadoake, so called, because a.

A Catalogue of Tavernes

broad Oake, being a goodly faire tree grew there, that spread a great compasse. It hath one Taverne kept by or for one John Earle.

Chelmsford, a faire goodly Market-towne, hath these 4 Taverns, Simon Wilmot, George Solme, Nicholas Sutton, and Tho. Freeman; the signes are, the three Tunnes, the Cock, the Black boy, and the Lyon.

At Brickfley Roger Greene.

At Kelvadon, John Theedham.

Harwich, hath an excellent good Road for shipping. It is a good strong Towne, well strengthened by Naturall scituation, and Artificiall Fortresses: it is not only full of people, but honestly peopled for the most part of them. The River Stoure there divideth Essex from Suffolke. Harwich hath three Tavernes, kept or allowed by Alice Farley, Will. Hart, and Margaret Moore.

At Brookstreet at the Bull, Agmondesham Pickayes.

At Chigwell one, allowed by Tho. Pennington

At Plashie and St. Annes, Will. Chandler.

At Much Parindon, Roger Worthington.

Walden, or Saffron-walden, so called for the great quantitie of Saffron that growes thereabouts. It hath had a faire Castle, which is now Ruinated. It is a very good Market town, and it hath a Corporation, with large Privi-

in ten Shires about London.

Priviledges: It hath three Tavernes allowed, or inhabited by Simon VWillmott, Katherine Bates, and Thomas VWatton.

At Much Wakering, Mawd Goldingham.

At newport, John Sell.

At Little-baddo, Abigail Lane.

At Much Waltham, Abell VWhite.

Maldon was a Citie in the time of Calligula the Emperour, above forty yeares after Christ: It was then called Camalodunum: It hath beene spoyled by the Danes, and since repayred by the Normans: but by the industry of the people there, it hath beene and is still a towne of great worth and reputation: it hath a good Haven, and a Taverne for a safe harbour kept or allowed by Ursula Edwards.

This Countie of Essex (in the Reigne of King Henry 8.) had at the suppression of Monasteries, Abbies, Nunneries, Priories, Frieries, Colledges and Hospitals, 35. Essex is divided into 30 severall Hundreds; namely, Vltford, Hinckford, Rorchford, Chelmesford, Chaford, Winstree, Lexden, Dengie, Ougar, Tendring, Thurstable, Barstable, Dunmow, Waltham, Freshwell, Harlow, Havering, Clavering, Becontree, Wittham.

Essex hath one and twenty Market townes, foure hundred and fiftene Parishes, and one hundred and seven Tavernes.

A Catalogue of Tavernes

Hartfordshire.

Hartfordshire, is a County that surpasseth all Countries and Counties for making the best Malt; and for good cleane High-waies, conscionable short Miles, meat, drink, lodging for travellers, kind men, women faire and honest, and with any thing that is necessary, this County is plentifully stored withall.

Barkhamstead is a good Market Towne, and it had once a Castle there of strength, the Ruines of it are there yet to be seene; it hath been the habitation for Kings and Princes, for the most noble Prince Richard, Brother to the King of England, dyed there: which Richard was King of the Romanes, and Earle of Cornewall. This Castle ruined, is also famous, for the residence there of that most Illustrious Royall Spark, Edward the Black Prince: and lastly, it is memorable for being the Birth-place of King Richard the third. Barkhamstead hath two Tavernes, allowed or kept by Stephen Besowth, and Francis Baker.

At Tring, William Blacknall.

At Stevenedge, John Nodes.

At Wetheramstead, Thomas Stepping.

At Redburne, Prudence Miles.

At Sabridgeworth, John Barr.

At Walton, George Honor.

At

in ten Shires about London.

At Colney or Coney, William Tompson.

Barnet is a good Market towne for Sheepe and Beasts, it is a great thorow-fare, and famous for the Battle fought neere it (on Easter day, the 14th of Aprill, 1471) betwixt King Edward the 4 and the Earles of Warwick and Oxford, where Warwick was slaine, and with great slaughter of men on both sides, King Edward had a bloody victory. Barnet hath these Tavernes: John Brisco at the Antelop, Henry Owen at the red Lyon, Thomas Brisco at the Rose; the Crowne.

At Bildock 2, James Haiday, and John Thurgood.

At Stevenledg, John Nodes.

At Stansted Abby, John Giver.

At the Bell at Richmonsworth, Sara Marsh.

At Bishops Hatfield, William Walker, and Elizabeth Barefoot.

Hartford is the Provinciaall towne of this Shire; there is a Castle (as some write) built by King Edward the first: this towne hath been much larger, and in greater prosperity and accompt, for it had 4 Churches, namely, All-Saints, and Saint Andrews, which are now standing; the other 2 are decayed, or down, their names were Saint Maries, and Saint Michaels. Hartford hath these 3 Tavernes: Will. Scant at the Bell, Anne Vinmunt, Tho: Noble, Henry Chalkley, and Henry Butler; these 4 persons last named, doe inhabit and allow, the other 2 Tavernes there being the signes of the Glove, & the Angell

A Catalogue of Tavernes

At Hempstead 2, Will: Smith, & Dorcas Goodwin.

At Hitchin three, George Haiday, Thomas Harding, Priscilla Warner.

At Hoddesden, John Sydes at the Black Lyon, and Francis Williams at the Chequer.

At Waltham Crosse two, Katherin Holt at the Bell, and Rosamond Hawton.

At Roylton three, Leonard Hamond, Anne Crofts, and Thomas Hagger.

At Watford 2, Edward How, and Henry Gery.

At Markatstreet, John Crane.

At Wellwin, Iesser Wilshire.

At Barkway, John Rawley, and Thomas Smith.

Ware is a great thorow-fare, and hath many faire Innes, with very large Bedding, and one high and mighty Bed, called The Great Bed of Ware: a man may seeke all England over, and not find a married couple that can fill it. Ware hath 3 Tavernes: Wil: Crosse, or Wil: Raffe at the Crown, Shelton Amery, Christopher Robinson, widow Hall at the George, also she keepest a Wine-seller at the Christopher.

At Bishopstardford two, George Hawkins, and John Cheyny.

At Buntingford two, Edward Bullen, and Anne Hensham.

At Wormeley, Rich: Bishop at the Black Lyon.

At Much-hadham, Edmund Kustat.

At Puckeridge two, Sir Iohn Wats doth allow one, and the other is inhabited or allowed under one Will: Northage.

Saint

Saint Albanes is famous for Antiquity, and for the death of our English Proto-martyr S^t. Alban, hee was martyr'd there in the raigne of Dioclesian the Emperor, Ann. 268. After he had suffred many torments, lastly his head was struck off, and immediately the executioner was struck blind. Offa king of the Mercians built the goodly Abby Church there, An. 795. and the said Church was dedicated to Christ and S^t. Alban, from whom the town hath denomination. The Brazen Font in the Church was brought out of Scotland by Sir Richard Lea Knight, An. 1543. in the 36 yeare of the raigne of K. Henry the 8. This towne is also famous for two memorable bloody Battels there betwixt K. Edward the 4. and K. Henry the 6. where both the Kings had various fortunes: It hath these Wine tavernes; the Blow Bore, the Lyon, the Kings Armes.

Kingslangley is also famous for being sometimes the residence of Kings, Edmund of Langley, Son to K. Edward the third was borne there, & K. Richard the second was first buried there: It hath a tavern kept or allowed by Rose Deacon.

At Abbots Langley, one Nicholas Breakespeare was borne, who was afterwards Pope of Rome by the name of Hadrian the 4th, he died suddenly chok'd with a Fly in his Cup.

This County of Hartford, had, at the suppression of Popery, 22 Religious houses, as Abbies, &c. It hath 8 divisions or hundreds; namely, Osney, Cay, Bo.

A Catalogue of Tavernes

Tho, Branhing, Harisford, Hiching, Edwinstree Broadwaier, and Dacorum. This County hath 18
Market townies; 120 Parishes, and 52 Tavernes.

Hampshire.

H Ampshire, or Hantshire, is a goodly rich County, abounding in Corne, Wood, Pasture, and much enriched with innumerable Commodities from the Sea.

Sonshampton is a faire, sweet & pleasant town, it hath had triall of both fortunes often, it was quite consumed by fire, in the raigne of K. Edward the 3. Anno 1337. since when it is better re-edified and much increased, well defenced with Walls, Turrets, a Haven, and a strong Castle built by K. Richard the second, it is rich in Marchants and Inhabitants, and by the grant of K. Henry the 6. it is a County of it selfe. It hath 8 Wine Tavernes, either allowed or inhabited by Thomas Miles, Tho: Stoner, Tho. Smith, Augustine Reignolds, Oliver Stoner, Elizabeth King, Eliz: Nevey, and Eliz: Elzey.

At Mew-church, Benjamin Newland.

At Alton 3. Jo. Butler, Jo. Goldsbery, Basil Kemp.

At Basing-stoake three, Anne Cross, or Robert White at the Bell, Avis Tate, or Anthony Spittle at the Maydenhead, Thomasin Barrell, or Captaine Marlow at the George.

Kingwood is a very ancient towne, it was in estimation

in ten Shires about London.

information and prosperity more than 1100. yeares ago in the raigne of Cerdicus, K. of West Saxons, Anno 808. it is now a good Market town, & hath 2 taverners allowed by Will: Tarvar and Iohn Wiseman.

At Petersfield two, Richard Goodwin, and Agnes Wood.

At Stokebridge one, Francis Leison.

At Havant, William Woolgar.

At Fareham, Anne Wilks.

At Alford three, Anne Tinkeridg, Rachell Tinkeridg, Mary Williams.

At Buckland, Henry Fabyn.

Tichfield, where K. Henry the sixt was married to the valiant Virago, Qu. Margaret, daughter to Reinard Earle of Anjou, & titularie king of Scicilia and Ierusalem. There is a goodly house, the chief seat and residence of the honorable Earle of South-hampton. Tichfield hath one Tavern, Rich: Brown.

At Andover three, John Miller, Iohn Henry, and Mary Sowth.

At Hook, Bridget Woolfe, the signe of the Bell.

At Romsey three, Alexander Elver, William Bloys, and Dorothy Laude.

Christ-Church, by the Saxons, it had once a Castle in it of a good strength; the towne was much repaired by one Ralph Flammard Bp. of Durham, Anno 1094. in the raigne of K. Rufus, or William the 1. this Bishop was Deane of this Christ Church and there he erected a fair Monastery. This town hath one Taverne, Iohn Pomson.

A Catalogue of Tavernes

- At Warnford, Richard Woods, and Mabell Vinn.
- At Lymington, George Castle.
- At Castbrooke, Margaret Hayles.
- At Newport, in the Isle of Wight; one John James, may, or doth keepe three Tavernes.
- At Newtowne, Jarvice Taylor.
- At Cowse three, Morgan Adams, Margaret Hayles, William Edwards.
- At Yarmouth, Anne Gargre.
- At Brading, John James. So there are nine Tavernes in the Ile of Wight. This Iland to the County of Hampshire, is 20 mil: s in length & 12 miles in bredth in the broadest place; it is a most plentiful strong defencible Countrey, Sea, Art & Nature made so. It is peopled with valiant and warlike inhabitants, Henry Bewchampe Earle of Warwick was crowned King of the Ile of Wight, in the raigne of King Henry the sixt.
- At Forthingbride one Taverne, Richard Boen.
- At Hambledon one, Christopher Organ.
- At Bishops Waltham one, John Hawksworth.
- At Easttinson one, Iane Loving.
- At Botley, Dorathy Doncastle.

Wincheſter is a very famous and ancient City, it was the Royall seat of the West Saxon Kings; it had 6 Houses in it for coining and minting money in the raigne of King Aethelstane; and long since that all the publike Records & Evidences of the whole kingdom of England were kept there. This Citie

in ten Shires about London.

hath been twice fired by sudden misfortunes; and in king Stephens raigne it was sack'd and spoil'd by rude Soldiers that belong'd to the King, and Maud the Empresse factions; but after it was much enrich'd by the royall favour of King Edward the 3, who caus'd a Mart or Staple of Wooll & Cloth to be kept there, but since (as times hath altered) this worthy City hath suffred many changes, yet still with Fame and Reputation she beares up her head. Winchester hath 4 tavernes Ioan Prat, Anne Bud, Thomas Brexton, and Cornelius Brexton.

At Soake, neere Winchester three, William Pope, Ioan Noake, and Walter Travers.

At Lippock, Robert Palmer.

At Sutton Seoney, Michaell Nicholas.

At Hartlerow, Anthony Maynard, or Ioan Wild at the George.

Portsmouth, so called, because it stands at the mouth of the Port or Haven; it is a strong towne and fortresse, with a Garrison; and it thrives better by War than by Peace: It hath 4 tavernes, Richard James, Owen Iennings, Dorothy Iennings, and William Haberley. Portsmouth Liberties, one Anthony Haberly hath, or may keepe two tavernes.

At Gosport, neere Portsmouth two, Anne Clarke, and William Towerison.

At Hartford bridge, Thomas Bickton, or William Wild at the Swan.

At Milbrooke, Margery Strood.

Odiam

A Catalogue of Tavernes.

Odiam is a pretty Market towne, where sometimes David King of the Scots was kept prisoner, in King Eward the third's raigne; since when, the Kings of England have, and do, now, & then lodge there in a royall Mansion of their owne: there was a fortresse there in the raigne of King Iohn, of such strength, that thirteene Englishmen, did hold it fifteen dayes against Lewis the Daulphin of France, who assaulted it with a mighty armie, yet could not win it from the said thirteen men. Odiam hath one taverne, kept by Bridget Dickenson, or one Mistrisse Keyes, at the George.

Hampshire had at the suppression of Popery, of Abbies, Nunneries, Priories, Frieries, Colleger, Hospitals 30. This Shire hath 18 Market townes, Parishes 253. It is divided into 40 hundreds, or divisions, as Crundon, Acton, Selburne, Odiam, Eastmean, Sutton, Bartenstacy, Finchdeane, Portsdown, Tichfield, Manbridge, Meanstock, Fawley, Hambledon, Butlegate, Redbridge, Kings, Sombourne, Andover within, Andover without, Hornwell, Botmere, Fareham, Aversstock and Gosport, Waltham, Eringer, Pastrac, Kings Cleare, Thoragate, Overton, Basingstoake extra Holdshot, Christchurch, Newforrest, Ringwood, Barmanspir, Forthingbridge, Buntsborough, Mainsborough, Chutesey, and Mitchelldever. Number of Tayernes in this County seventy three.

Barke

Barksbire.

B Arkesbire is a rich and plentiful County, and a great helpe to her neighbour Provinces for Wood and Corne; which necessary commodities are the cause that no other thing fitting for mans use is wanting in this Countie.

Windsor is a daintie, faire, and spacious towne, with a royall Castle, of such magnificent structure, and so scited and leated, that for prospect it is unparalleled, & deserves respect transcendent beyond all the princely fabricks in Great Brittain. That victorious Mars of men, King Edw. 3. was borne in Windsor, & he founded the said Castle. He held prisoners King John of France, and David K. of Scots: since which time the Castle was made more stately and conspicuous by King Edw. 4. and a Noble Knight Sir Reignold Bray was at great charge in the augmenting of it; since when the famous and worthy memorable Queene Elizabeth, beautified it with the stone Gallery, or Walke towards the Thames. The Right honourable Order of the Garter was first instituted by K. Edw. 3. at Burdeaux in France, but since that time it hath bin continued at Windsor for that noble installation: and in the beautilfull Chappell there, are all the Armes and Harchments of that noble Fellowship, placed in their degrees. Also in this famous Castle was borne

D

A Catalogue of Tavernes

borne that good and pious King Henry the 6 who founded Eton Colledge, and the worthy structure of Kings Colledge in Cambridge. Winfor hath these Tavernes, the Crossekeyes, the George, the Garter, and the White Hart.

Wantage is a place of great antiquity, long before the Norman Conquest there was a house for the king, for Ælfred the 23 king of the West Saxons was borne there, who raigned, Anno 872: there is or may be two Tavernes kept by Edward Gallant at the signe of the Elephant.

At Buscot one, Adam Kirby.

At Twyford one, Henry Millward.

At Enborne one, Anne Plantin.

At Warefeile one, Thomas Garson.

Abendun, Abbingdon, or Abinton, the name was first derived from a famous Abby built there by Cissa, one of the Saxon Kings, which Abby was throwne downe by the Danes, and after raised againe by king Edgar Anno 995. since which time it grew to that state and greatnesse, that scarce any Monastery in England could top it either for wealth or pomp; but there remaines little or nothing of it now but Ruines and Rubbish, as Reliques of the greatnesse which once it had, from it the Towne was called Abby-town, now changed into the name Abington; it is a faire and sweet scituation, famous for a rare Crosse in the Market place, and for plenty of Mault made and sold there: It hath but one Tavern

in ten Shires about London.

verne kept by one John Prince, who at his pleasure may keepe three Tavernes there if he will.

At Theale one, John Bowyer.

At Winfield one, John Hawkins.

At Binfield, Richard Williams.

At Thackham, Robert Humphrey.

At Farington two, Simon Turner, and Margaret Handy.

At Okingham two, Will: Hunt, and Rich: Thorp.

At Lamburne one, kept by one Daintree at the two neck'd Swan.

At Hungerford one, Thomas Smith.

Wallingford was a good towne in the raigne of K. Edward the Confessor. An. 1042. It hath been a walled towne, as appeares by the ruines of it, with a strong Castle neere the river of Thames, which is now almost defac'd into fragments. King Stephen with all his force could not win it from the besieged Empresse Maud; In the raigne of K. Edw. 3. An 1334. this town was of such greatnesse that it had 12 Churches, which now are demolished and diminished to 1, or scarce two; (such are the changes of transitory things) it is a good Market town, and stands commodiously, having two Tavernes under William Donnington and John Smith.

Newbery is a rich town for the trade of clothing, it sprang out of the Consumption of an old towne, which is neere it, called Spene, or Spinhamlands; there are three Tavernes, under John Greenoway,

A Catalogue of Tavernes

Thomas Howes, and Anthony Linch.

Spinhamland hath two tavernes under Richard Cox, and James Garroway.

Maydenhead is so called, as some say, of a Maid's head that was cut off at Colleyne in Germany, which from thence was brought thither, and worshipped; the people supposing it to be the Head of one of the 1100 Virgins (or Msids) that suffied with Saint Ursula, how certaine it is I know not, but this I know, that there are good Inns, lodging and entertainment, halfe of it being in the Parish of Bray, having these taverns: the Beare, the Greyhound, the Lyon, the White hart, the Sarazens head: It may be one too many.

Reading is the prime and principall town in this County of Barkshire, for faire buildings, large streets for cloathing and other blessings: King Henry the first, with his wife, & his daughter Maud the Empreffe, were buried there. Reading hath these Tavernes, kept or allowed by John Domelaw, Elizabeth Foster, John Bagley, Richard Alexander, John Skot, and George Duell at the George.

This Shire had at suppression of Monasteries, of Abbies, Nunneries, Priories, Frierics, Colleges and Hospitalls, 14. It is divided into 20 devisions, or hundreds; namely, Hormer, Farington, Ganfield, Shrievenham, Kentbury, Oke, Braye, Wanting, Riplemore, Compton, Morton, Cookeham, Barnelth, Lamborne, Wargrove, Reading, Sunning, Theale, Charleton, and Fairecrosse. Bark-

in ten Shires about London.

Barkshire hath also 11 good Market townes, 140 Parishes, and 40 Tavernes.

Surrey.

S*urrey*, or Southrey, because it lies South from the River of Thames, it is a rich County, and if the inhabitants do not want thankfulness to God, there is nothing wanting (either pleasant or profitable) for the life and maintainance of men.

Farnham is a fine Towne in the Rode betwixt London and Winchester, it hath a faire Castle in it, which was built by Henry Earle of Blois, Brother to King Stephen; it stands lofty on a Hill, seeming to overlooke the Towne, as it overtops it; it was throwne downe by King Henry the third, in the Barons wars; but the Bishops of Winchester (who are the owners of it) hath from time to time rais'd and repaired it to that goodly structure. The town hath 3 tavernes inhabited or allowed under John Folder, Anne Hoore, and Anne Martin.

At Haselmere one, Robert Palmer.

At Cobham, John Perior.

At Godstone two, the Bell and the Greyhound.

At Peckham one, the Greyhound.

At Linyuill, Thomas Chapman.

At Lederhead, or Leatherhead two, John Rogers, Thomas Clark.

A Catalogue of Tavernes

At Byfleet one, John Baily.

At Mowlsey, Anthony Powell.

Chertsey is a pretty little Market towne neere the Thames, where there is a decayed left handed Bridge over the River, I wish it mended, the people are for the most part very kind and honest. It hath or may have 2 taverns, Ellin Day, & John Stare.

At Croydon 2, the George and the Greyhound.

Guilford is a good Market towne where Kings have kept their Court, as appeares by an old decaied house there to this day. Also, there are the ruines of an ancient Castle to be seene neere the Brooke: This towne hath very faire Innes, and good entertainment, at the Tavernes, the Angell, the Crowne, the White hart and the Lyon.

At Wimbleton, the two Lyons and Wheat-sheafe.

At Godalming (corruptly called Godlyman) are two, under Henry Westbrooke and George Bridger.

At Bagshot are two, the Bush, Scipio le Squire, or Mr. Anthill, and Robert Battin at the Lyon.

At Barnes, Richard Hill at the Beare.

Rygate is anciently famous for affronting and repulsing the Danes neer there in Holensedale, neere which is a ruinated Castle, called Holme Castle; the Tavernes may be two, but William Pistor hath the command, the Hart.

At Little Monlesey, Parnell Nitingale, White hart.

At Ripley, Anne Stanton at the Dog.

At

ten Shires about London.

At Stretham, William Lads at the Antelop.

At Barmestreet one, Julian Haberley.

At Calthaiton one, Mary Rutledge at the White Lyon.

At Lambeth and Lambeth Marsh, the Faulcon, the Kings head, the White Lyon, the Three Squirrels, the Three Tuns, the Vint.

At Egham, the Kings head, & Katherin wheel, by Elizabeth Clarke, and Margaret Guy.

At Micham one, William Holland.

At Tooting one, Elinor Serient.

At Mortlake two, Miles Bourne at the Princes Armes, and Phebe Tucker at the Maidenhead.

At Waddon one, Christian Weller.

At Camberwell, John Stratfield, and Jane Webb.

At Bleachingles, Anne Fince.

At Waybridge, Kate Williams.

Kinston, a very commodious and good well govern'd Towne, an excellent Market (especially for corne.) In old time it had a faire Castle belonging to the Earls of Gloucester. Three Saxon Kings were crowned there on a Scaffold in the Market place, namely, Edwin, Athelstane, and Etheldred, in memory of which there are the figures of those Kings in the Church. Before those Kings were crowned there, the towne was called Mereford, & ever since those Coronations, it hath bin called Kinston, or the Kings Towne. Parliaments have bin held there divers times: It hath many good Innes, and these

A Catalogue of Tavernes

Tavernes, the Castle, the Crane, the Kings head, the Saracens head, and the Hand in hand.

At Meistham, Reignold Durkin.

At Battersea, Henry Norton, Anne Boswell, the Mermayd. At Darking, Toby Ridge, Edward Goodman, and Iohn Comber.

At Ewell two, Katherin Umbrevile, and Francis Kendall: but one may serve that towne, and doth (as I think) which is the signe of the Popinjay.

At Newington, the Bull, and the Kings Armes.

At Putney 2. the white Lyon, & the red Lyon.

At Wandsworth, Mary Gibson, Sith Browne, and William Sherlocke.

At Cobham, the Lyon, the George.

The Golden Lyon neere old Paris Garden.

At Rederhith three, the Mermayd, the Sun, and the Rose.

Richmond, was called Sheene before K. Henry the 7. built the stately Palace there. There was a goodly House neere the said foundation in old time, for K. Edw. 3. died there: so likewise did Queen Anne the wife of K. Richard 2. King Henry 5. built much there, which being burnt by casual misfortune, K. Henry 7. built upon the old groundworke. In that Palace that now is, dyed the sayd Royall founder of it, King Henry, and after that there died his grandchild Queen Elizabeth, both immatchable Princes for internall and externall endowments. There are two Tavernes, the Lyon, and the Princes Armes. This

in TEN Shires about London.

This County of Surrey had at the suppression of Monasteries, Abbies, Nunneries, Priories, Frieries Colledges and Hospitalls, 14. It hath 8 Market townes, and it is divided into thirteene Hundreds or Divisions, namely, Chertsey, Woking, Farnham Emley Bridge, Darking, Croydon, Kingston, Blackheath, and Wooton, Capthorne, and Effingham Godalming, Tanridge, Reygate, Brixton and Walington. It hath 140 Parishes, and of Tavernes 71.

Buckinghamshire.

B*uckinghamshire* is a rich and fat soyle, and by the bountie of heaven plentifully replenished with the fruits of the earth.

Marlow, was so named because it stands in Chaufkie or Marle ground: it is a good Market towne and hath one Taverne under Iohn Farmour.

At Winslow, Nicholas Brinsall.

At Chaffant, Robert Ducke.

At Burnham, Iohn Phipp.

At Oney, Lewis Ablestone.

Brill is so ancient, that King Edward the Confessor had a house in it, and sometimes kept his Court there. It hath bin formerly a Market town it is a place most fertill and fruitfull, and hath brave, beautifull, and pleasant prospect. It hath one Taverne, the Kings Armes, kept by Christophe Gregorie.

A Catalogue of Tavernes.

At Brickhill two, Iohn Hutchinson, and Iane Holmes.

At Cheneis, Iohn Barfoot.

At Hanslap, Richard Perry:

At Newport Pagnell two, Iohn Prestman, and Elizabeth VWhite.

At Slough two, the Crowne, and the White Hart, Iohn Checkley.

At Fenny streetford, Iohn Kims.

At Ever, William Atkins.

Alesbery (as some say) so called for brewing of most mighty Capitoll Ale, as browne as a Berry; it is a good Market town, and hath these tavernes, and signes, Ioseph Sexton, Ieffrey Standley and Anne Goldsworth, the George, the Kings head, and the Bush.

At Amersham, Iohn Cross, Edward Bayly, and Tobias Saunders.

At Challey, Robert Paine.

At Marsh Gibbon, Mary Robins.

At Beconsfield, Richard Bentley, Sara Hayles, the Bell.

East Wickham, or high VVickham is a faire town, and a Maior town, with these tavernes, the Lyon, the Nagshhead, and the Katherin VVheele; but M^r. George VVells may (if he please) keep one more.

At West-wickham, Mary VVells.

At Farnham Royall, VVilliam Baldwin.

At Chessham, Daniell VVest, and Eliz: VVolfc.

At

in ten Shires about London.

At Eton two, Francis Dickinson, and Peter VViggor; the signes there, are the Christopher, and the Sua.

At Missenden two, VVilliam Harris, and Thomas Gardner.

At Whit-church, VVilliam Theed.

At Ivinghoe, Edward Anthony.

At Wendover two, Richard Rowell, and Ralph Hill, the Lyon.

Stonystreetford is so named for the place where it stands, and much of the Countrey neere it is very stony; there is a Taverne there, the signe of the Cock, Lloyde.

At Amelford two, the Sarazens head, the Bush.

Colebrooke is a great through-fare, and hath these taverns, the George, the Estrich, the Katherin wheel Thomas Meale, Thomas Charley, John Childe.

At Prince Resborow, VVilliam Hastlegrove.

Buckingham is the Provinciaall Towne of this Shire, and hath these Tavernes, the Cock and the Bush; Alexander Stotusbury, and Elizabeth Pollard.

This County had at suppression of Monasteries, Abbies, Nunneries, Priories, Frieries, Colleges and Hospitals 22. It hath 8 divisions, or hundreds, Afsenden, Stock, Newport, Burnham, Buckingham, Disborough, Collstow, Alesbery. It hath 11 Market Townes, 185 Parishes, and 47 Tavernes.

Oxford.

A Catalogue of Tavernes

Oxfordshire.

O*xfordshire* is scarce second to any County in England for plenty of Corne and Pasturage, Wood and Fruits of all sorts, that this kingdome yields. It is also excellently watred with fine sweet Rivers, as Ouse, or Ifis, which some doe call the Thames; and the little River Cherwell also glides into it, so that this Shire is furnish'd in plenty with fresh River fish of sundry kinds.

Banbury is a goodly faire Market towne, and (as the learned Cambden) it is famous for Cakes, Cheese and Zeale: it hath three Taverns kept by Martin Wright, Elizabeth Collins, and Mathew Alfop.

At Stoken Church, Augustine Belson, the signe the White Hart.

At Nettlebed two, Iohn VWhite & Ioh. Crowch: the signes are the Bull, and the Lyon.

At Watlington, Elizabeth Colebroore.

At Bampton, Simon Turner.

Burford is a good Market towne, but beware of a Burford Bayt, for it may breed the Staggers: there are 3 Tavernes inhabited or allowed under Edmund Hening, Agnes Dalby, and Simon Hator.

At Chippingnorton two, Christopher Deane, and Henry Cornish.

At Vitney, Tho. Brooke at the Kings Armes.

Darchester was a faire and goodly Citie 1000
yeares

in ten Shires about London.

yeares agoe, for in anno 642. Oswald King of Northumberland, was a Godfather to one Cingilse, a king of the West Saxons, which king was converted from Paganisme to Christianity, and was then and there baptized in this town of Dorchester. The Cuines whereof that are neere it, doe shew in part how far the ancient greatnesse extended, it is now but a little Towne; the River of Tame doth fall into Isis hard by this Towne: it hath one taverne, inhabited or allowed by Elizabeth Bernard.

At Stratton Awdley there is one Taverne, under the licence of Iohn Burlace Esquire.

At Enstone, Richard Canning, and Mary Aylsworth.

Thame is a good Market towne, and is so named from the River of Tame or Thame that waters it; it hath two Tavernes, Thomas Ballow, and Richard Kendall, the signes are the Red Lyon, and the Swan.

At Benson one, Edward Snelling.

Woodstocke house, or the Kings Pallace there was built by King Henry the 1. and the Park there was also by him enclosed. This house was after made a Pallace of private pleasure by King Henry the second, where hee enjoyed his fading contentment with the faire Rosamond Clifford: The town is a pretty Market towne, and chiefly famous for the breeding of the worthy Jeffrey Chancer, the most ancient Arch-Poet of England: Woodstocke hath sometimes but one Taverne, and sometimes two.

A Catalogue of Tavernes

two, according to the pleasure of Mr. Tho: Rayer.

At Tatworth two, John Poyner, and Elizabeth Tanner.

At Deddington two, Katherin Bennet, and Mary Baker.

At Ilsp two, Edward Stoakley, William Bradley, Kings head, Princes Armes.

At Wheatley two, John Smith, and Athaliah Robinson.

Hendley or Henley is an excellent Market town, with these Tavernes, the White hart and the Elephant. Also, there is a Taverne with a Bush only, at the Bowling Green without the Towne in Oxford way. Robert Heyborne, Richard Pinder, and John Stevens.

Oxford.

AS the glorious Beames of the resplendant Sun cannot be made more coruscant by the light of a silly Taper, and as a drop of raine augments not the boundlesse Ocean, so would any thing that should be spoken, or written by mee in the praise of this famous University and City be most needlesse or impertinent. The vigour of Hercules could not be encreased with the strength of a Pismire; it is high presumption to shew Apollo the grounds of Poetry, or to reach the Muses (whose habitation is there) and there is the inexhausible Magazin of all Arts

in ten Shires about London.

Arts, Learning, and good literature; therefore, with that little parcell of Latine which is translated out of Greeke, and spoken by Apelles the famous Painter, Ne Sutor Ultra Crepidam, I will take leave of the University, and speake of the Tavernes, which are five, Francis Harris, William Turner, Thomas Hallom, William Grice and Humphrey Budwit; the signes are the Mermayd, the Swan, the other three are onely Bushes.

This Shire had at the suppression of the Romish Religion, of Monasteries, Abbies, Nunneries, &c. 26. This County is devided into 14 hundreds or divisions; namely, Langtree, Bloxham, Tame, Banbury, Wootton, Binfield, Ewelme, Pitton, Chadlington, Bampton, Bullington, Plowghley, Dorchester, and Lewknor. Also Oxfordshire hath 11 Market Townes, 208 Parishes, and 40 Wine Tavernes.

The totall of all the Tavernes in all the ten Shires and Counties aforesaid, are 686, or thereabouts.

FINIS.

[The following page contains extremely faint, illegible markings.]

10. The following is a list of the names of the persons who have been appointed to the various committees of the Board of Directors of the City of New York, for the year 1901:

28 MR 59

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO
PRESS

October 1835 the number of licensed Public Houses 149 of Beer Houses 67. Total — 216.
To the Marshal of the Univ: Holliday.